Proud Cross to Bear

Q. Recently I read that only one British Spitfire pilot during the Battle of Britain received the Victoria Cross, Britain's highest military decoration. How many of these medals have been awarded? Has any foreigner ever received one? W. S., Long Beach.

A. Nearly 1,400 Victoria Crosses have been given since the decoration was founded by Queen Victoria in 1856 to award "gallantry of an outstanding nature." At least a half dozen have been awarded to members of Commonwealth and British forces since World War II, but no exact count is available at the British Consulate in Los Angeles. One cross was given posthumously to an Australian soldier killed in Vietnam combat, according to a consulate spokesman. He says none have been awarded to soldiers outside of the British and Commonwealth armies. The medal is in the shape of a cross with a royal crest, and all those awarded are forged by hand from cannon and guns captured from the Russians in the 1853-56 Crimean War.

Air Moscow

Q. It is my understanding that Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, is planning to open a weekly flight between New York and Moscow in June 1968, its first to the United States. As I am currently negotiating for a refund from Aeroflot and find it to be a lengthy and tedious process, I wonder under whose jurisdiction the airline will fall when making regular flights to the United States. Will the Civil Aeronautics Board or the International Air Transport Association have the authority to enforce prompt refunds for canceled or unfulfilled reservations? M. R., Westminster.

A. If Aeroflot receives its permit to provide transportation to and from the United States, certain aspects of their operation, including refund policies, will be under the jurisdiction of the CAB, according to Dean Witt, assistant chief of CAB consumer complaint section in Washington, D.C. Section 402 of the Federal Aviation Act states that a foreign air carrier permit must be issued by CAB and approved by the President. Any extensive delay or refusal to issue a refund is considered a violation of the Federal Aviation Act and the CAB has the authority to take action against the airline up to revoking its foreign air carrier permit. A spokesman for IATA told ACTION LINE membership in the association is entirely voluntary although most major airlines choose to join. IATA has no legal jurisdiction over the enforcement of refund policies, but has often used its power of influence and persuasion in behalf of consumers with legitimate complaints, the spokesman said.

Alice From Bubbleland

Q. For the past few years my 80-year-old father has missed his favorite heart-throb, Alice Lon, on the Lawrence Welk show. Could ACTION LINE find out why she left the show and where she is now? M. S., Long Beach.

A. Pretty Alice Lon, Welk's bubbling Champagne Lady for six years, left the show in 1959 after disputes with Welk over her choice of songs and singing style. The singer, now 40, a native of Kilgore, Tex., is living in Dallas with her second husband, an airline copilot, and her three sons by a previous marriage.

Internationalism

Q. Can you enlighten me on the "Baha'i World Faith"? J. M., Long Beach.

A. The religion which teaches the oneness of man and a way to world peace was founded by Baha'u'llah, a Persian, in the 1800s. In urging social uplift and world peace, Baha'u'llah came into conflict with Persian authorities, and he was banished to Baghdad, then to Adrianople and finally to the prison-city of Acre, where he died in 1892. One of Baha'u'llah's often quoted statements is, "The earth is but one country and mankind its citizens. Let not a man glory in this that he loves his country, let him rather glory in this that he loves his kind." Mrs. Abbie Hoeke, secretary for the Long Beach Baha'i group, says followers believe religious truth is progressive, not final; and that God, although unknowable, never leaves his people without guidance in times of crisis. "God sends us prophets to reveal laws and principles appropriate for each age in which they appear," she says. Some of the other principles of the faith are a belief in religion's essential harmony with science, in the need to search for truth, in compulsory education and in the need to establish an international language. For more information, contact Mrs. Hoeke at 421-3331.

Prize Picture

Q. For answering a telephone quiz correctly and ordering some photographs of my granddaughter, I was promised a free trip to Las Vegas for two. I was supposed to get the trip certificate at the Phillips-Marlboro Studio in Anaheim. When I went there to get the certificate, I was informed they had not come down from the head office as yet and I still haven't got it. What can be done? H.J., Garden Grove.

A. ACTION LINE took your problem to Ralph Wald, photographer for the studio. He said if you will send him a note with your serial number on it, he will mail you the certificate for the free trip.

REACTION

In answer to Mrs. J.A.D. who complained of people going through her rubbish barrels, I work for a big milk company and if she saw what I pick up off rubbish barrels and give to less fortunate people, maybe she wouldn't feel so mad about it. Whenever I see a box of clean clothes put out, I pick them up on my milk truck and give them to a family that I know can use them. I have even picked up cribs, clean of course, baby tenders — you name it, I've picked it up. Magazines I bring to the Kaiser Hospital to which I belong. Toys I either give to someone who can use them or turn them over to Goodwill. I'm only writing this letter in hopes it will make Mrs. J.A.D. feel better toward the people that look her rubbish over. They may be doing the same thing I am. P. W. K., San Pedro.

Rights Bill Set for Vote

Open Housing Measure Due in Senate Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate cleared the way Friday for passage, probably on Monday, of a civil rights protection, open housing, and anti-riot bill.

By a 61-19 vote, the Senate accepted the legislation as amended as a substitute for the original civil rights measure brought up in mid-January.

Only three nonsouthern senators voted against acceptance. They were Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb.; John J. Williams, R-Del.; and Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va.

MAJORITY LEADER Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said he hopes to pass the bill and send it to the House on Monday.

He indicated he does not expect opponents to wage a filibuster against passage, although he told newsmen he has no such agreement with them.

The limitation on debate that was put into effect last Monday, with adoption of the cloture rule, expired with completion of action on amendments.

But Mansfield made clear he would not hesitate to ask the Senate to invoke its cloture rule again if he felt it was necessary.

The legislation, expanded far beyond its original scope during more than seven weeks of debate, was broadened even further at Friday's session.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., won adoption of an amendment extending the protection of the Bill of Rights and other constitutional guarantees to American Indians.

THE OPEN HOUSING provisions, the most controversial part of the bill, would take effect in three stages and would bar discrimination in the sale or rental of nearly 70 per cent of the nation's housing.

The bill also would provide federal criminal penalties for interfering by force or threats with voting, serving on juries, attending public schools, and other specifically protected rights.

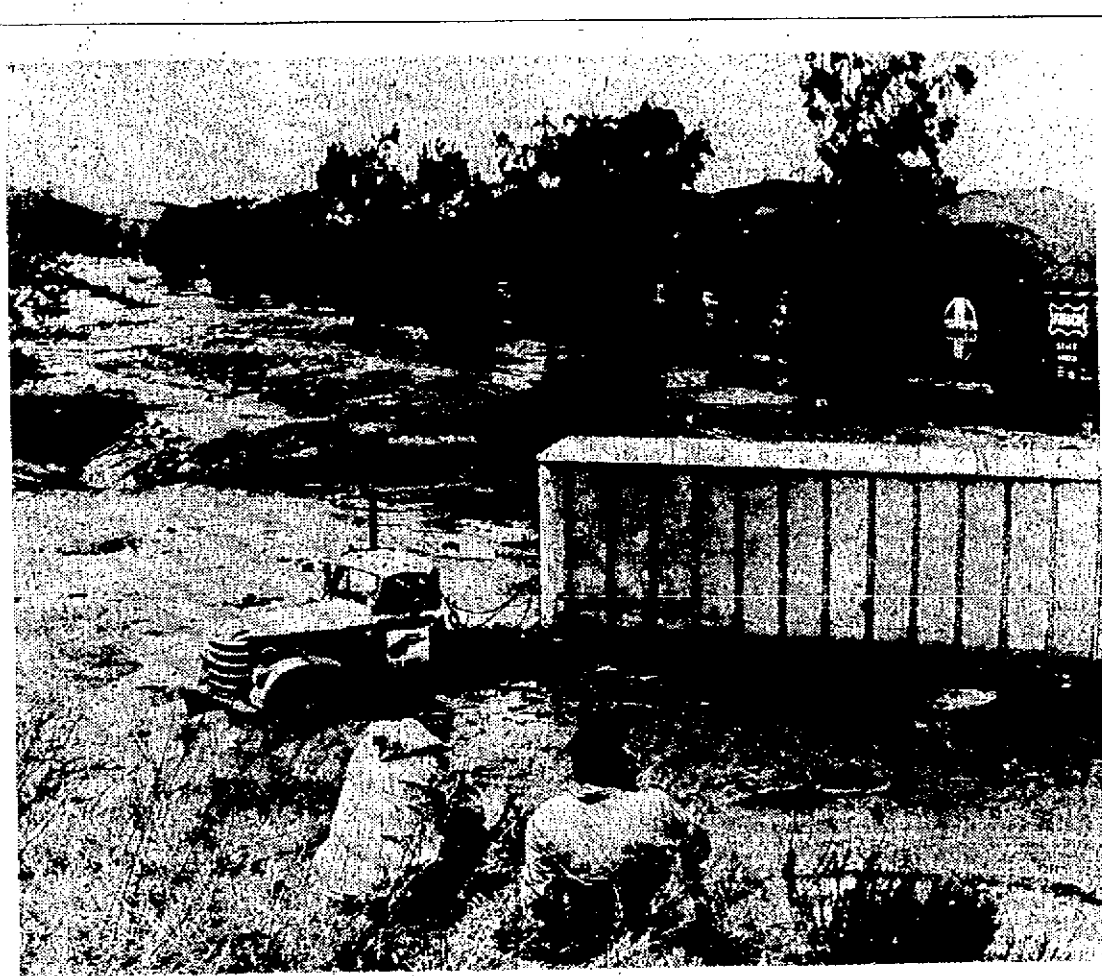

Another part of the measure would make it a federal crime to cross a state line with intent to incite a riot.

The bill also provides federal criminal penalties for transporting in interstate commerce and teaching or demonstrating how to make or use firearms, explosives, and incendiary devices like Molotov cocktails in riots.

Judge Rips the Insulin Murderer

By MARY NEISWENDER

Cold-blooded insulin killer William Dale Archerd, described as "the most evil man I have ever seen," Friday was sentenced to die in the gas chamber for the murder of two of his seven wives and a 15-year-old nephew.

Superior Court Judge Adolph Alexander, who found the 55-year-old grandfather guilty of the three murders Wednesday, handed down his verdict as the defendant sat impassively at the counsel table.

When the judge concluded his remarks, the silver-haired Lothario leaned across the counsel table and "congratulated" Deputy Dist. Atty. Raymond Daniels, who had successfully prosecuted him.

EARLIER IN THE day, he dried tears from his eyes when one of the medical experts called to testify as to his health, said he had only five years to live.

But he sat impassively through 50 minutes of stinging arguments by Daniels, during which grisly deaths by insulin injection were detailed—including that of his nephew, Burney.

Judge Alexander, obviously under a great strain, said he appreciated the fact the sentence "is my responsibility, and mine alone... nobody can share that with me."

Then, noting that medical testimony introduced Friday conflicted as to how long Archerd might live, he said:

"I was interested in his (Archerd's) heart condition for one reason. I didn't want to put the State in the immoral position of racing this man's God to claim his body."

"I AGREE (with defense attorneys) that times have changed and that many of the states have done away with capital punishment, but can a judge on a trial level do away with capital punishment."

"I hate the death penalty as much as anybody, but it is on the books and I have taken an oath to support the constitution and uphold the law."

"The penal code and the Legislature provide that one found guilty of murder in the first degree will suffer either the death penalty or life imprisonment. The Legislature must have had some reason for the alternate sentence, and I can only assume that in aggravated cases, the Legislature intended the death penalty be imposed."

"If ever there was an aggravated case, this is it. Judge Alexander, who as a deputy district attorney successfully prosecuted murderer Barbara Graham and child killer Fred Stroc."

RAID BREAKS BIG ANAHEIM HASHISH RING

Federal narcotic agents seized $45,000 worth of hashish in a West Anaheim residential neighborhood Friday — the largest seizure ever made in the United States — and arrested two men. A third man escaped from a trap set by agents.

Arrested were Tom Peale Freestone, 21, of 2242 Cloverdale St., Orange, who is charged with the sale of narcotics, and William Larson, 26, of Las Vegas, charged with being an accessory. Both men are booked in Los Angeles.

The arrests climaxed a "months-long" investigation by agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics in Los Angeles.

Collaborating with bureau agents in the arrests were investigators of the Orange County District Attorney's Office.

Hashish is the resin from leaves of the marijuana plant.

Pupil's 1968 Caddy Lights Affluent Lot

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The public address system at Robbinsdale High School told, in nonchalant tones, of affluent suburbia.

A car in the pupil's parking lot had its lights on, the school office announced. The vehicle was described as a white 1968 Cadillac.

New Storm Due to Arrive Today

A new storm which developed off the Southland coast was scheduled to keep small fry indoors today.

But, the weatherman added, the skies should start clearing late today and Sunday should be "picnic weather."

Long Beach was trying to dry out late Friday after a "sneak" storm — twice predicted and twice failed to show — suddenly appeared and dumped 1.83 inches of rain on the area. The rains caught many people in the open without raincoats or umbrellas and raised the city's total for the season to 12.12.

THE BEACH area was spared the worst blows of the Thursday-Friday storm.

Orange County had more precipitation — 2.10 inches — and Newport had less — .60 inches — but they all shared the common denominator — cloudy skies and gloomy outlook. The record holder for the storm was Culver City which absorbed 4.36 inches. Los Angeles had 3 inches and International Airport recorded 3.51 inches.

A WELTER of auto accidents complicated traffic throughout the Southland and one furnished a dramatic rescue by firemen in the Los Angeles River near Pasadena.

Mrs. Karen Corbin's car skidded off the Pasadena Freeway, tumbled down a concrete embankment, between Avenues 36 and 37, and hurled her and her vehicle into the Los Angeles River's muddy Arroyo Seco channel. The woman was swept four miles in 10 minutes as firemen attempted to rescue her along the banks of the river.

Capt. Robert Webber, 44, swam to Mrs. Corbin with a lifeline tied around his waist. Taken to Central Receiving Hospital, Mrs. Corbin was found to have suffered a broken leg.

Today's storm was scheduled to arrive before dawn and continue until late afternoon.

Plane Down With Six

CHICAGO, Saturday (UPI)—A private plane carrying six persons today was reported missing and believed down in Lake Michigan. Two U.S. Coast Guard boats and a fire department helicopter began a search in the foggy waters.

The spokesman said the plane was a De Havilland Dove 10. Those aboard were identified as the owner, Dr. Edward H. Litchfield, Couversport, Pa., his wife, his mother, in her 80s; his two children, ages 5 and 10, and the unidentified pilot.

Blocked Highway to Reopen

Tons of dirt, rock and mud, laced with fallen trees, and tangled with brush, washed onto the Santa Ana Canyon Road near the Orange County line Friday, halting all traffic.

Fifteen vehicles, including three truck rigs, were trapped in the torrents of debris, which surged into the Green River Camp gas station and cafe.

STATE highway officials said the expressway, which has two lanes of divided pavement linking Orange and Riverside counties, will be closed until late today.

The California Highway Patrol was routing traffic onto Chino Road, Carbon Canyon Road and Imperial Highway. These are two-lane roads which causes traffic problems.

The massive slide was caused when a four-inch rainfall pounded the Santa Ana Mountains, almost denuded of ground cover by a disastrous fire at the end of October.

Woman's Body Found on Beach

The body of a 46-year-old woman was found on the beach in Laguna Beach Friday, according to police.

Officers tentatively identified the victim as Betty Ruth Klaus, no known address. They indicated the woman apparently fell from a 25-foot cliff in the 400 block of Cliff Drive.

The body was discovered around 9:30 p.m. by two young couples strolling on the beach.

Veneman Backs Reagan's Property Tax Relief Bill

By BOB SCHMIDT
From Our State Bureau
SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan's $155-million property tax relief program will be formally submitted to the Legislature next week, with no surprises in it except the name of the legislator who will sponsor it.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto, a frequent opponent of the governor on fiscal matters, has announced he will add the proposal to tax legislation he introduced earlier in the session.

He said he would introduce the amendments Wednesday, when his earlier bill, AB 149, is scheduled to be heard by the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, and then reschedule AB149 for a hearing March 27.

Veneman is chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, which has five other Republicans and Eight Democrats.

DETAILS OF THE program were released last month and drew immediate opposition from Democrats because the plan calls for the $155 million to be made available to the counties, with no assurance that county supervisors will pass the savings along to the property taxpayer.

Basically, Gov. Reagan's plan would transfer to the counties the proceeds of a half-cent sales tax collected by the state. In 1968-69, this is expected to amount to $191 million.

The counties are to use $155 million of this as property tax relief, and use the remaining $36 million to take over complete financing of nine programs currently administered at the county level but paid for in full or in part by the state.

The formula for allocating the $191 million is as follows.

Each of California's 58 counties would receive a flat $40,000. The remainder would be distributed according to a formula based half on population and half on sales tax collection. The flat $40,000 allocation is to insure that the less populous counties will be fairly treated.

IN LOS ANGELES County, the estimated county tax rate reduction would be 35 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation.

The proposal would reduce Orange County's tax rate 30 cents, according to county Budget Director David Hitchcock. The county's general fund tax rate is now $1.71 per $100 assessed valuation.

If county supervisors maintain present programs, therefore, the tax relief for a Los Angeles County homeowner who has a house valued at $20,000 would be $17.50; for an Orange County owner of a $20,000 home, $17.00.

If 35 cents in state aid had been available for this fiscal year, the Los Angeles County tax rate would have been reduced from $2.45 to $2.10 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

As welfare, salary and other county costs are soaring, it is uncertain how much state aid will be needed to head off a 1968-69 county tax-rate increase.

(In Los Angeles County, 35 cents of the tax rate would involve $17.50 in taxes for a home with a fair market value of $20,000).

OPPOSITION TO the proposal is expected to come from three directions. Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh has said he would support the measure only if "it is accompanied by a flat freeze on their (the supervisors') ability to raise the property tax."

Unruh pointed out that the last time the state turned back to the counties a similar half-cent in sales tax revenues, the property tax rose just as precipitously in those years (1956-57

Bus Dead Identities Unknown

The Greyhound Bus Company asked the public Friday to help identify passengers on the Los Angeles to Las Vegas bus — struck by an apparent suicide driver — which crashed and burned near Baker.

A Greyhound official asked friends or relatives of persons who might have been on the bus, which left Los Angeles shortly after noon Thursday, to contact the Greyhound office or the California Highway Patrol.

Twenty persons were burned to death and 12 others injured in the fiery crash on Interstate Highway 15.

Highway patrolmen said the driver of the car, Michael Barry, 39, an unemployed cook from Las Vegas, may have been bent on suicide when the crash occurred.

"He was traveling on the wrong side of the freeway and evidence indicates he drove his car deliberately into the bus, which made an evasive action," investigators said.

Meanwhile, in satisfactory condition at Barstow Community Hospital are Kenneth L. Burkhardt, driver of the bus, of 3702 Volk Ave., Long Beach; Theresa Fisher, 78, of Redondo Beach; Irene H. Martin, 75, of Seal Beach; and Mollie Davis, 75, of Huntington Beach.

Reagan Disclaims Candidacy

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan Friday told Oregon Secretary of State Clay Meyers he is not a candidate for president but won't ask his name to be removed from the May Oregon primary.

The California Republican released the text of a wire he sent to the Oregon official, who plans Monday to release the names of possible candidates for president and vice president.

"This is to inform you that because I am a favorite son candidate in California I will not ask to have my name removed from the Oregon presidential ballot if it is placed there," Reagan said.

"AT THE same time, I am not now and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for the office of vice president," Reagan said.

"Therefore, I would be most appreciative if you would remove my name from consideration."

"However, if you do put it on, I would welcome, at your earliest convenience, the affidavit of disclaimer that I understand you provide for those who wish to remove their names."

Reagan's name already is practically assured a place on California's June 4 ballot as a favorite son, but he says he is entering the primary only to avoid a fight between serious candidates.

Mayor Yorty's Wife Off State Demo Delegation

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The wife of Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty was removed from the delegation at the last minute Friday, as California's strife-torn party regulars formally entered their pro-Johnson slate in California's June 4 Democratic presidential primary.

Mrs. Elizabeth L. Yorty had been included on an originally-announced slate for the state's 174-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

But when the list was submitted to the secretary of state's office, her name was removed and that of Norbert Schleif, defeated Democratic candidate for secretary of state in 1966, substituted.

It was a clear victory for the forces of former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Also missing were two Yorty nominees for the state. Both had opposed Brown and backed Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan in the 1966 governorship election: former singer Phil Regan, and George Rochester, a former Republican state senator.

Thomas Saunders, in charge of the delegation's campaign, said Mrs. Yorty's name was taken off because the mayor — who had opposed Brown in the 1966 governorship primary — had decided she would not serve if Rochester and Regan were not included.

'Most Evil Man' Archerd Sentenced to Gas Chamber

bel, dipped into his experience with criminals:

"I RECALL A GOOD many years ago that I prosecuted a man who had molested a little girl and brutally murdered that little girl. I felt that was the most evil man I would possibly come in contact with. But yet, as life goes on, we meet people even more evil than that."

"Later I prosecuted three people on murder. Their theory was leave no living witnesses behind, and I thought those were the most evil persons I could ever come across."

"But then it was my misfortune to meet Mr. Archerd, and I think he is more evil than any I have ever seen before."

"It is a very, very difficult thing to tell a man he must die, and I certainly derive no pleasure in doing so... but if I do the other (life imprisonment), I would be doing a cowardly act."

"It is a cowardly act not to impose the death penalty in this case."

"REGARDLESS OF WHAT he has done, he is still a human being and it is a difficult thing to tell a human being you must die, but in this case I must."

In imposing the death penalty the 64-year-old judge became one of a very few judges in Los Angeles County to ever impose the death penalty after hearing a case without jury.

Earlier, Daniels, in his plea for the maximum sentence, labeled Archerd "one of the most fiendish, cold-blooded mass murderers in history."

During the three-month-long trial, Daniels introduced evidence indicating the murders were committed for personal gain. In his final plea, he reminded the court:

Acherd is 55 years old. He's lived a full life, and all he has ever created is death and misery and heartache, not only for the people who died, but for the families. He watched his victims' progress with a cold scientific eye. Coldly and clinically, he killed them, and his motive was greed."

THEN, THE YOUNG attorney, who had not only prepared the case against Archerd, but aided in the investigation, drew a similarity between the deaths of the two wives Archerd was convicted of killing.

"He lived with them a year and a half. He wasn't employed. He lived off them until their money was gone, then he left them. When he returned — after their pleading — it was three days until each one ended up in a hospital, and on the fourth they were dead."

"But Burney (Archerd's nephew who died in Long Beach in 1961) was the most pathetic of all. Archerd staged an accident, put drops in Burney's eyes and took him to a hospital. But Burney wouldn't cooperate and kept talking about walking out of the hospital."

"When Burney said 'Aren't you going to kiss me goodbye' a few hours before he lapsed into a coma, Archerd knew it was goodbye. Archerd knew the boy was dying."

"HE'S A MAN THAT can stand there impatiently, coldly, watching his victims progress towards death... what kind of a fiend are we dealing with... what's so precious about the life of this man?"

Defense attorney Phil Erbsen argued for less than 15 minutes, devoting most of his attention to the death penalty and the fact many states have abolished it.

"I'm not saying Mr. Archerd deserves any medals for what he did," the greying specialist in criminal law told the court, "and I don't think we can concern ourselves with rehabilitation in this case, but this defendant can be punished by just not being able to be free."

Judge Alexander set March 18 as time to hear arguments for a new trial and formally impose sentence.

TEARS FOR DEAD SALT MINERS

21 Trapped Miners Found Dead in Shaft

BELLE ISLE, La. (UPI) — Rescuers Friday found the bodies of 21 miners deep in the Huge Cargill salt mine on Louisiana's marshy coast, apparently dead of carbon monoxide from a fire.

Sixteen bodies were found late Friday morning about 3,000 feet from the quarter-mile-deep main shaft. The other five were discovered later in another part of the mine.

It was the worst mine disaster in Louisiana history.

There were no survivors of the work crew trapped underground by a roaring fire Tuesday at midnight.

Exhausted rescuers, who made seven separate trips into the mine, returned to the surface. Cargill officials said they would not try to remove the bodies until today.

At Washington, the U.S. Bureau of Mines said inspector Arthur M. Evans of Dallas told Cargill last September the mine needed more fire protection and a second shaft.

Evans' report said the huge mine, one of the world's largest salt excavations, "was constructed mainly of wood and heavy timbers and lacked fire protection."

He also said a second shaft should be sunk and connected to the workings. The 21 men had no way to get out when the fire burned through elevator equipment and blacked the mouth of the shaft with thick black smoke.

O'BRIEN, an escapee from a Tulare County prison camp, fatally shot Officer David Seibert during the holdup of a market at 17500 S. Crenshaw Blvd.

He was originally charged with two counts of armed robbery, one count of assault with intent to commit murder and murder.

Officer Seibert, survived by his wife, Chris, 22, and a 1-year-old daughter, was shot in the left chest, right hip and right arm.

He died in Harbor General Hospital despite efforts of a team of 15 doctors who battled to save his life.

400-610 Social Workers Needed

By JIM McCAULEY
From Our L.A. Bureau

Spiraling welfare caseloads will force the county to hire 400 to 610 social workers this spring.

It means the county must come up with $1.5 million more for salary costs this year, another $5 million next fiscal year. The latest round of social-worker hiring comes after the county already has hired 800 more social workers than were in the budgeted yardstick.

In giving the bad economic news to County Supervisors, county chief administrative officer Lindon S. Hollinger urged the board to authorize 610 additional social worker positions (including 148 as clerical staff).

Four hundred of the jobs must be filled this spring to keep the county in line with federal requirements for case load standards. The other positions are to be available if there is a further spurt in caseloads. The county will face a one-third reduction in federal welfare aid if it fails to maintain federal caseload staffing levels.

Hollinger estimated the public Social services Department will overspend its original 1967-68 salary appropriation by $52.7 million. Seventy per cent of this overexpenditure will be offset by federal and state welfare aid.

MEXICAN-AMERICANS

Board Members Listen to Students

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Some 2,000 Mexican-American students met Friday with two members of the city board of education and a U.S. congressman to discuss complaints that have helped lead to disturbances at five high schools this week.

Dr. Julian Nava and Dr. Ralph Richardson, both board members, and Rep.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jack P. Crowther, superintendent of schools, warned Friday "we will not tolerate further absenteeism" at five Los Angeles schools. He added that disciplinary actions could be ordered Monday, including seeking help from law enforcement officers if necessary.

Edward R. Roybal, D-Calif., listened to the students gathered at Hazard Park.

AFTER hearing the students, Nava said the board would hold a special meeting Monday afternoon to hear student complaints about the schools.

A group of Negro and Mexican-American youths broke up a meeting of the board Thursday when they gathered in the meeting room and demanded to be heard. The board was holding a hearing on teacher salaries.

Board President Mrs. Georgiana Hardy told the group of about 2,000 teenagers she would allow them only five minutes but promised the Monday hearing. When she attempted to adjourn the meeting a member of the Brown Berets, a Mexican-American activist group, seized a microphone.

Mrs. Hardy gave the meeting into adjournment and some board members left hastily by a back door.

FIVE high schools in minority neighborhoods have been the scene of student boycotts and minor violence this week.

Nava told students from the schools at the Hazard Park meeting that the board of education has serious problems to resolve before it can help the students.

"But we are a serious problem," several of the youths shouted back.

John Ortiz, 16, East Los Angeles, a student at Garfield High School, one of the troubled institutions, said he was a member of a "strike committee" which was formed at his school shortly after school began last fall.

The committee sought to gain smaller classes, larger libraries and better educational facilities, Ortiz said.

'Generation Gap' Target of Meetings

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Students from six Los Angeles high schools will meet with parents today to discuss relations between the two groups.

The meetings will be held throughout the weekend at Griffith Park boys camp. The gathering is a pilot effort for governmental and private groups to cooperate in the improvement of human relations in the schools and the community.

Students participating in the program are from Manual Arts, Dorsey, Crenshaw, Fairfax, Hamilton and Los Angeles high schools.

Ragged Paper Carries Coach Wooden's Creed

By JOHN WOODEN
Basketball Coach, UCLA

Inside my wallet is a piece of paper I have handled so many times it has become worn and ragged. It was given to me by my father when I graduated from a small, three-room country grade school in Centerton, Indiana.

My father in his gentle way was a most remarkable man. Although he had few material possessions and worked long and hard to earn a living for his family on a small farm, Dad believed everyone should have a philosophy of life if he were to amount to anything.

On the paper he gave me upon my completion of grade school, Dad had listed the following creed and titled it—"Seven Things To Do":

WOODEN

1. Be true to yourself. This will insure peace of mind, and you will never betray anyone.
2. Make each day your masterpiece. You cannot change yesterday, and a better tomorrow can only come by improvement today.
3. Help others. This will bring far, far more than you could ever give.
4. Drink deeply from good books. There is none that compares to the Bible, but also read Shakespeare, Tennyson, the philosophers, biographies of great men, and others.

5. Make friendship a fine art. Be a friend; do not take friendship for granted.
6. Build a shelter against a rainy day.
7. Pray for guidance, count your blessings and give thanks for them every day.

Although I fall short of living up to these guides, I have found them to be meaningful in every phase of my life.

During the years I have coached at UCLA and other places, they have helped me develop a balanced attitude toward victory and defeat.

Next — Bobbie Wagner, Chilton, Wis., student, tells the touching story of his sister Niki, a mongoloid, and how her death taught him the meaning of love.

New Mechanical Heart Aid to Be Used in L.B.

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

A relatively new technique to assist a heart-attack victim through a critical period is slated for trial in a Long Beach hospital.

This was disclosed Friday in a scientific lecture given by Dr. John E. Connolly, chairman of the department of surgery at University of California, California College of Medicine.

Dr. Connolly, speaking to doctors in St. Mary's Hospital, said the technique will soon be given a trial at Long Beach Veterans Administration Hospital.

The technique, which involves use of a mechanical blood pump, permits the heart to rest.

Technically it's known as total left-heart bypass.

The idea is not new. The new development is use of a new-type catheter (tubing) which makes major surgery unnecessary when rigging for the procedure.

The new-type tubing, developed by Edwards Labs of Santa Ana, is threaded through a jugular vein into the upper right chamber of the heart. There the tube's tip is made to pierce the heart wall so it can gain entry to the heart's upper left chamber. (The hole will later heal without ill effect.)

The oxygen-rich blood in the heart's upper left chamber is then pumped by a mechanical device into an artery. Thus blood bypasses the heart's lower left chamber, the main pumping area. The idea is to give the main pumping muscle of the heart a rest.

Research to date has shown the bypass technique can be safely used for 24 hours, Dr. Connolly said. If bypass is not used continuously — but intermittently — the technique can be employed even longer.

Dr. Connolly said the technique should prove especially beneficial for a heart patient in shock — one with low blood pressure.

"Unless that blood pressure can be raised, the patient is going to die," he said.

The technique should also be valuable for a person suffering from chronic heart failure, he continued. The bypass could enable such patients to let their hearts rest for a day or two from time to time.

CSLB Leader Answers Charge by Negro Group

Militant demands by the Black Student Union of California State College at Long Beach—whose president called the campus "the most racist in the state"—were answered Friday by the school's student body president.

President Dennis Murray proposed three plans aimed at increasing participation of racial minority groups in student activities in a meeting with the Negro group and the United Mexican-American Students.

Two of his proposals — one for minority group liaisons to work with him and the other for recruiting Negro and Mexican-American students for student government committees — were accepted by BSU and UMAS representatives.

BUT NEGRO LEADERS rejected Murray's third proposal — that a member of each group sit in on Student Senate meetings as non-voting participants.

BSU leaders recited a list of five demands in Wednesday's Student Senate meeting, including immediate seating of a Negro senator, more money for Negro guest speakers, hiring of more Negroes for the college staff, an end to "off-campus housing discrimination," and student funds for the campus Economic Opportunities Project.

In Friday's meeting, BSU President Victor Brown told Murray his group is trying to establish a "representative base" for Negro students so there will "not be trouble" as the number of Negro students increases.

MURRAY, ANSWERING

a charge by BSU adviser Dr. Joseph White that only 15 Negroes have been hired as college staff — ten of them as janitors — said Negro professionals are hard to find because they are in great demand and are snapped up by richer colleges.

"We know, because we tried," Murray said.

Murray also assured White and Brown the college housing office boycotts apartment owners who racially discriminate.

White conceded that "maybe some things are being done," but told Murray that the student government, newspaper and college administration should publicize their efforts.

"IT'S OBVIOUS the students making the big decisions are white, and are up here on the hill," White said. "We meet in Building J on lower campus, and we don't get this information."

The BSU had met with editors of the campus Forty-Niner newspaper, Tuesday, demanding that a Negro make final editorial check of all major news stories about Negro students.

Dave Snelling, managing editor of the paper, told White Friday that anyone was welcome to join the newspaper staff by enrolling in the class.

"But anyone who wants to be in an editorial position has to work his way up and show his competence," he added.

The BSU Friday excluded Forty-Niner reporters from its noon meeting. College officials said chartered campus clubs had the right to hold closed meetings.

Cabbie Robbed of $9 and Keys by Three Men

A cab driver was relieved of $9 and his car keys at gunpoint Friday by three men he had picked up a few minutes earlier at Spring Street and Palo Verde Avenue.

Wayne Young, 49, of 939 Lime Ave., said he drove only as far as 11th Street and Locust Avenue when one of the men pulled a .38 caliber revolver and made his demands known.

BUILT LIKE A TRANSFORMER

Swedish Power Is Here! (Quite a Shocker, Watt?)

BY DICK EMERY

A volt is only a little old thing. You can't even see it. But, because a whole batch of volts are arriving at a South Los Angeles power station from the Haynes Steam Plant at Seal Beach —

The station had to transform the 230,000 volts to 138,000 volts, which called for a big transformer —

Which the Department of Water & Power ordered from Allmanna Svenska Elektriska Aktiebolaget at Ludvika, Sweden —

Which built a transformer rated at 500 million-volt-amps and weighing 308,000 pounds —

Which forced the Swedish company to set up a deal with the Long Beach Naval Shipyard for the giant Navy crane — capacity 500 tons — at a reported $1,700 per hour to unload the transformer when it got here —

Which it did — the transformer, that is — after traveling 8,531 nautical miles on the Swedish Johnson Line's MV California.

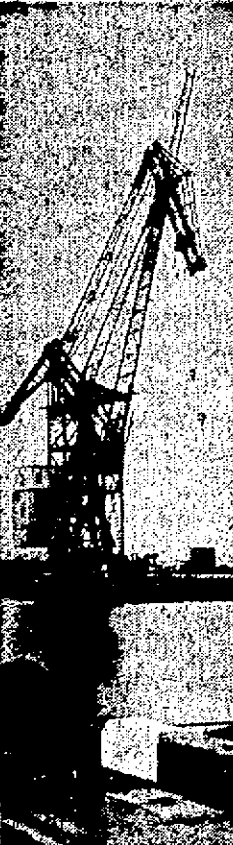

Longshoremen, sailors, electricians, Swedes, beachcombers and a sprinkling of press photographers, etc., watched the crane hoist the big gray package from the ship to a waiting 16-wheeled flatcar on a Southern Pacific siding at Berth 55 in San Pedro.

Four other big transformers have come here from the Swedish maker in recent months, and two more will arrive March 25.

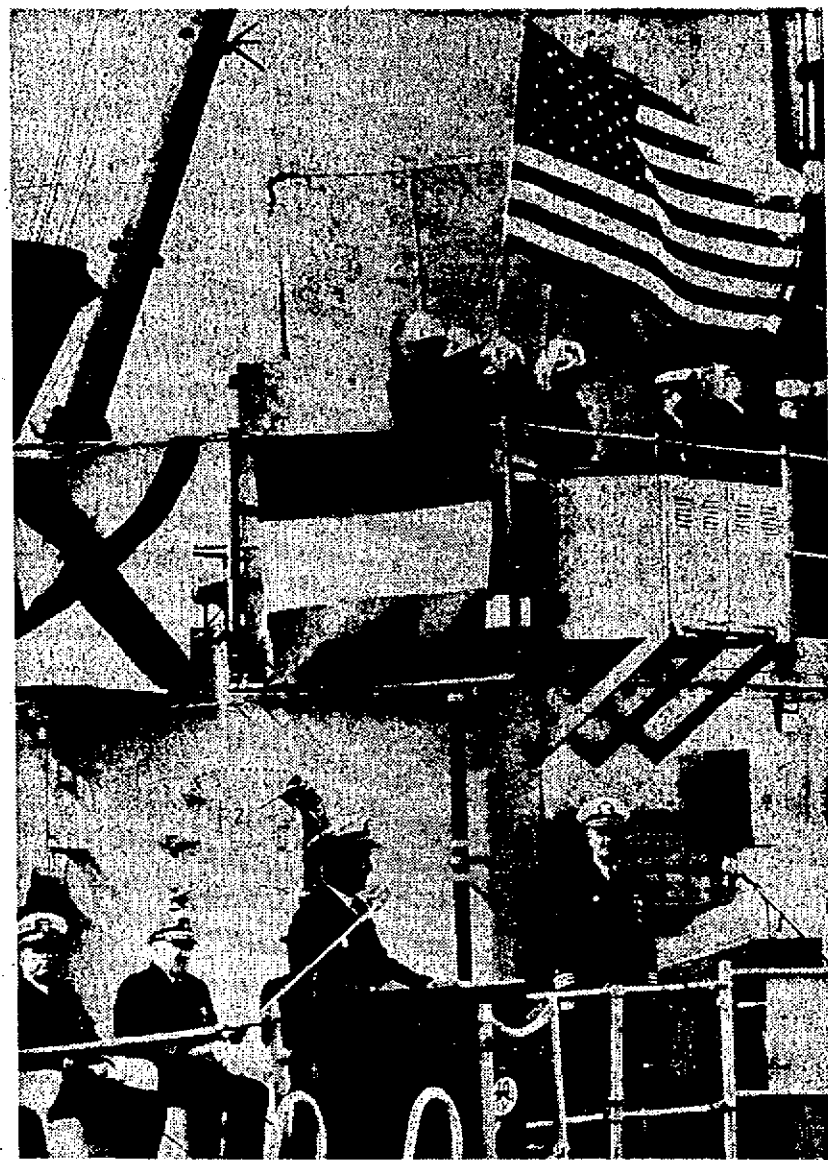

"They named the volt for an Italian count, Alessandro Volta, who puttered around with electricity back in the 1700s," a Power and Light man said.

"A volt is simply the electromotive force sufficient to cause a current of one amp, or ampere, to flow through a conductor whose resistance is one ohm—Hey! Aren't you guys listening?"

"Come back! I haven't even started the technical part!"

Red-Eyed Greyhounds Get a New Commodore

By BUCK LANIER
Military Editor

A destroyer squadron whose nine ships have logged six years deployment time in 19 months got a new commodore Friday.

Capt. James L. Cook Jr. turned over command of the "Red-Eyed Greyhounds" of Squadron 19 to Capt. John W. Smith in a smartly executed ceremony at the Pier E berth of the USS Turner Joy.

The squadron was cited by Rear Adm. Sam H. Moore, Flotilla 7 commander, for "outstanding operational readiness. Your deployment time and records speak for themselves," he said.

The admiral said the "Greyhounds" received 121 awards and commendations during Capt. Cook's tenure.

Cook, who goes to Pearl Harbor as chief-of-staff for Rear Adm. Walter V. Combs Jr., Pacific Service Force boss, praised the squadron's sailors for their dedication and resoluteness.

"That has been proven from Aug. 4, 1964, when two of our destroyers (the Turner Joy and Maddox) were attacked in the Gulf of Tonkin. We are all proud to be carrying freedom's torch and you men are carrying it well," Cook said.

The new commodore, fresh from duty with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, termed his new command "the high point of my 26 years in the Navy."

Special guests were Rear Adm. Thomas Rudden Jr.,

Flotilla 3 commander, and Air Force Brig. Gen. Winston W. Marshall, Commodore Smith's boss on the JCS.

Santa Fe Ave. 'Islands' Plan Eyed

Beautification of Santa Fe Avenue by construction of landscaped center-divider islands will be proposed Tuesday to the City Council by Councilmen Robert F. Crow and Emmet M. Sullivan.

Crow said he and Sullivan contemplate that the dividers, with left-turn bays, would be built between Anaheim Street and Wardlow Road.

He said that renderings and cost estimates have been prepared informally by Deputy City Engineer Tom Marchese, who also said that the project is "not inconsistent" with engineering standards, insofar as the width of Santa Fe Avenue is concerned.

The two councilmen said they have been contacted by the West Side Long Beach Community Association, which supports the project.

Crow said he and Sullivan will ask the council to give the beautification "strong consideration," and to refer the matter to the city manager for a financial and feasibility study.

Wheels, Tires Stolen

Thieves stole five aluminum wheels and tires worth $920 from a trailer owned by Quentin Tuggle, while it was parked near his home at 3325 Linden Ave., Long Beach police said Friday.

City and Union Huddle on Mary

By JACK O. BALDWIN
Marine Editor

City officials and representatives of local maritime unions met Friday "to explore ways of settling the labor dispute," which has stalled the move of the Queen Mary into drydock.

The city, through its legal staff, asked for assurance from the unions that the Queen Mary would be permitted to enter drydock unhampered by picket lines the next time the former luxury liner is scheduled to enter the U.S. Navy's huge graving dock on Terminal Island.

Attorney James Ackerman, spokesman for the maritime union group, suggested another meeting Monday, "after we have had the weekend to talk things over."

"It was a nice friendly meeting aimed at developing a better understanding of the problem on the part of both parties," Ackerman said.

THE AFTERNOON meeting followed an early morning union meeting in the Don Hotel in Wilmington. Union leaders declined comment on matters discussed at the morning session.

Both meetings were called after Superior Court Judge Max Z. Wisot signed a preliminary injunction Thursday limiting union picketing action involving the Queen Mary.

The unions were enjoined from carrying picket signs at any time bearing the word "strike" in connection with the Queen Mary dispute.

They were also prohibited from parading any pickets during the midnight-to-7:30 a.m. period on the day the ship is slated to enter the dry dock.

The injunction prohibits picketing by the unions on moving day on Pier E—on land or water—and in the vicinity of tugboats called to move the Queen Mary.

Picketing in the vicinity of the Long Beach Naval Shipyard was also prohibited by the injunction.

Orange County Schools to Get Federal Funds

Eleven Orange County school districts will receive $930,558 in federal funds from the Department of Health Education and Welfare.

The moneys, earmarked to districts which have a number of federally employed residents, are part of a tentative entitlement of $1.8 million due under Title I of the Public Law 874.

Among the districts and amounts are Los Alamitos, $110,690; Ocean View, $85,630; Huntington Beach Union, $100,639; Garden Grove Unified, $259,663; Magnolia, $22,362; Buena Park, $12,848; Cypress, $42,364; and Westminster, $85,006.

Recalled TWA Pilot Killed in Plane Crash

A Trans World Airlines pilot, recalled to active duty when U.S. Naval Reserve Squadron 776 was reactivated a month ago, Friday was identified as the officer killed in a desert plane crash Thursday.

Lt. Cmdr. David E. Best, 35, of Playa Del Rey, died when his A4B Skyhawk crashed in the desert near Needles.

Best, who had been based at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station, is survived by a wife and three children.

RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY!

Five-year-old Gary Gentry, peering out the window of his home at 4626 La-doga Ave., Lakewood, might well be thinking of the nursery rhyme which urges Sol Pluvius to abate long enough for some boyish games. Rain will return to haunt Gary today but he'll have clear skies for Sunday, the weatherman promises.

Week's Wall Street Trend

By ED MORSE (AP Business Writer) NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street worried this week about the monetary as well as the military front and the stock market took its second straight weekly loss. Frenzied trading in gold bullion in European markets was linked with speculation that the United States would have to devalue the dollar sooner or later. Later in the week silver rose to record prices in Europe. The effect was to weaken both the dollar and Britain's pound sterling in foreign exchange markets, the pound falling below its parity price of $2.40. Meanwhile events in Vietnam continued to be discouraging. Wall Street, along with the rest of the nation, continued to wait for some resolution of the problem faced by the U.S. Marines at Khe Sanh. The Dow Jones industrial average this week fell 5.20 to 835.24. This left the average still above its theoretical support level of about 831. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 2.6 at 302.9. Of 1,637 issues traded this week on the New York Stock Exchange, 545 rose and 951 fell. The trading week began on Monday with a sharp drop in stock prices as gold mining stocks rallied against the downtrend, caused by the soaring demand for gold in London and published speculation to the effect that the U.S. would raise the price of gold above $35 an ounce, thus devaluing the dollar. In a turbulent session Tuesday, gold mining stocks were upset by profit taking. President Johnson re-affirmed his determination to maintain the gold price at $35. There was comment, too, in investment circles, that some of the gold mining stocks were far over-priced, even if the gold price were boosted to $70 an ounce. Short covering lent a note of strength to the final minutes of trading Tuesday. On Wednesday the late strength of the previous session developed into the sharpest rally since the previous Nov. 21. The Dow Industrials rose 10.18. Analysts regarded the advance as purely technical. There was no special news to warrant a change from caution to confidence on Wall Street. Traders, however, were ready for a quick turn and investors put some of their accumulating funds to work. Both glamor stocks and blue chips advanced together. On Thursday the market could not sustain an early rise and a kind of digestion recess took place for the gains of the previous day. The loss was slight on the day.

THE BURDEN OF PROOF remains on the upside. The urgency to buy evident Wednesday cannot yet be supported on a technical basis. That rally was very sharp—almost too sharp considering the over-all decline in volume. The previous dip below the 830 level did give a downside count to the 810-820 area which will not be reversed unless the market can rebound above the 855 level. Until there is definite upside momentum the minor trend will remain more negative than positive.

THE MARKET has lost over 10 per cent since its January high of 915. It has been nearly a vertical drop interrupted only by small technical recoveries. This does create an over-sold condition which will eventually lead to a rebound of intermediate proportions. A recovery could come at any point, however, no significant trading pattern or base of accumulation needed to support a rally is evident yet. Without a base, only a sharp and obvious reversal in selling pressures is expected to result in a sustainable rally.

THE RECENT UPTURN in the market was not based on an intraday reversal or a selling climax. The mere upturn in prices does not imply or constitute an improved near-term outlook for the market. There are still a number of factors that limit the implications of any rally at this point. First, there has been a lack of institutional support indicated by the declining number of large blocks during recent trading. Secondly, there has been a lack of dynamic leadership to support a strong rally at this point. Third, and most important, there has been a lack of significant upside momentum on any of the recent rallies. A sharp advance in prices not supported by a similar expansion in volume inevitably creates the need for further consolidation or correction.

The amount of institutional trading has continued to decline, as indicated by the decreasing number of big blocks in recent trading. The majority of blocks that were traded were concentrated in the weaker areas of the market. With the amount of selling declining, it would appear that this area was turning less negative. But big buying is needed before a definite improvement will be evident. Among the stocks under large-scale accumulation which are regarded favorably on a technical basis are: Safeway Stores, National Gypsum and Schenley Chrysler. Among the stocks under large-scale distribution which are regarded unfavorably are: ITEX, Fairchild Camera, Litton Union Carbide and Eastern Air Lines.

Leadership for the recent advance was concentrated in the glamor issues. For example: in one day IBM was up 17 1/2 points, Scientific Data up 7 1/2 points, Xerox up 6 1/2 and Polaroid up 6 1/2. Already these issues have retraced a substantial amount of these gains. Most of the glamor issues remain in downtrend patterns with no significant technical improvement or reversal yet. Therefore, this group must still be regarded as very vulnerable in this market and suitable for only the most nimble of traders.

THE SILVER GROUP has shown good relative strength recently. Some of the leading issues in this area, e.g. Hecla, New York & Honduras, Sunshine Mining, have made substantial gains in a short time. These stocks are not consistent trading vehicles and more often than not they are influenced more by fundamental than technical considerations. Nonetheless they have all shown good price and volume action recently and they all look higher on a technical basis.

Sunshine Mining (silver represents almost all of its production) has moved up sharply to a near-term objective in the high 30s. Allowing for some backing and filling there is a longer-term objective to the low 50s. Hecla Mining and New York & Honduras also look favorable. While these issues are less volatile they are also less vulnerable. Therefore, near-term commitments could be split between Sunshine Mining and either New York Honduras or Hecla.

Gardening

What the stocks lack in bright, showy, warm flower colors they more than make up for it by providing spicily fragrant blossoms. The cool leavening shades of pink, purple, rose, lavender and antique copper add a pleasing contrast when grown in the same bed with gayly colored snapdragons, pansies or ranunculus.

Stocks grow easily when planted out of the reach of lawn sprinklers, watered less frequently in a clay or adobe soil, not cultivated around them, and protected from aphids.

Young annual or perennial plants that haven't started to set their flower buds should be fertilized to encourage better blooming. Pansies and violas, on the other hand, should be lightly fed about once every three weeks because they continue to develop new runner-branch growths which produce new crops of blooms.

Calendula, the pot marigolds with bright orange or rich yellow flowers, furnish happy color in the sunny flower bed, bordering a walk or driveway, and are just the answer for narrow spaces, quick growth and cut flowers. The iceland poppies, too, grow fast and furnish blooms for color and bouquets.

Pansies and violas are the preferred edging plants for sunny flower beds, at edges of walks and driveway. Gardener must be very careful to not set the plants too deep. The central base area where runner-branch growths start must not be covered by soil. Plants set too deep are likely to rot off.

Did you ever stop to think that weeds, too, like the flowering plants we discussed, scatter their seeds which start the cycle over again in the fall? Unfortunately, jillions more seeds sprout to grow and smother the lawn. Fortunately, there are herbicides that control the weeds. Some are weed killers, others are weed-seed sterilizers, also called inhibitors, which destroy the weed seeds' power to germinate.

Dichondra lawns may be helped by controlling the majority of the weeds. Control of the grass weeds may be done by proper spraying of the foliage, or by a herbicide that sterilizes not only the grass-blade weed seeds, but also a number of small broad-leaf weed seeds. There are dichondra fertilizers that contain the weed seed inhibitor herbicide plus an addition of a herbicide for control of the yellow flowered, vigorous creeping oxalis. As the gardener fertilizes the dichondra lawn containing such a combination of herbicides, he does two jobs in one, feeds the lawn and applies the herbicide. There are two types of the granular fertilizers. One is somewhat on the dusty side, the other is a small pellet form which is dustless. One-third less of this is applied than the dust form, and it feeds uniformly and slowly. Both types should be carefully washed off the dichondra leafage and into the turf area.

There are herbicides for grass lawns, too, but you must be sure to tell the nurseryman which type of

WEEK'S TIPS

Spread about one quarter of an inch layer of manure over the flower beds, and water down well. It retains the moisture and leavens the soil.

Plant a dwarf fruit peach tree in a container and keep it in the sunny patio. You'll enjoy harvesting the fruit, as well as having an interesting plant to dress up the area.

Larkspur and annual scabiosa provide less-familiar cut flowers and interesting colors for the garden. Set the larkspur plants about six inches apart to support each other. Space annual scabiosa about 10 inches apart and they may need staking.

Keep close watch for aphids on the new growth of bare-root plants. Spray if any aphids found. Check the garden, too, for those pests.

lawn you have when you purchase the material.

Those medium to large evergreen shrubs with foliage like a Deodar tree but a dark green color covered with sprays of many waxy rose flowers, are Chamaelaucium ciliatum, "Geraldton wax plants."

This shrub is one of the few plants that provide long-lasting cut flowers indoors. Some have lasted as long as three weeks, because the attractive small cup-shape blossoms' color fades a little as they dry, but they don't drop off. There should be a plastic cover under the arrangement, because a stray drop of the flower sap will stain the table cover.

The right time to prune this shrub is when the flower branches are cut for indoor decoration. Finish pruning the rest of the plant when the flowers have faded. Unlike many shrubs that have to be pruned back to specific buds or leaves or crotch branches, this shrub may be cut anywhere on the branches and soon new growth bursts forth.

It stands from 30 down to about 20 degrees cold. It grows in sun, or more sun

Q. Help me get rid of grasshoppers, which are devastating my geraniums especially, M. F.

A. Spray plants thoroughly with chlordane or DDT. Soil must be well moistened first.

Q. I have five questions about our Pettingill apple tree, which has prospered since planting four years ago. It has never been pruned; last year it produced a dozen nice-tasting fruits. (1) What is the history of this tree? (2) Is it a dwarf variety? (3) How to prune it for maximum fruit? (4) Has it attained maximum size in four years? (5) When to feed it a liquid fertilizer? Robert D. MacPhee.

A. (1) The Pettingill is a truly Southland apple tree, having originated at Seal Beach, according to Ontario horticulturist Jack Story. He says it does exceedingly well from coast to inland valleys, with large, nippy-flavored fruit that's excellent for sauce or pies. (2) It is not dwarf, but normal-sized. (3) To prune, cut back the topmost branches about 3 or 4 feet to force spreading growth. Don't cut the very short, thick, spurlike growths on the remaining branches. Thin out closely set branches. Apply pruning compound to half-inch or larger cuts. Prune it now! (4) The tree should spread out more, and may grow a little taller. (5) Apply fertilizer in late summer, and again in early winter in advance of fruit formation. Fertilizer applied right now may help a little.

CLIMAX COMEBACK
1st Brethren to Dedicate Sanctuary

By LES RODNEY

On Sunday at 3 p.m. the congregation and friends of First Brethren Church will bow heads and thankfully celebrate completion of the impossible dream — a bounce back from the ashes of May, 1964 to dedication of one of Southern California's finest church plants. Maybe the finest. Have a look at it.

The 1,400-seat sanctuary, rounding out a $2 million-plus complex on 4 1/2 acres at 36th Street and Linden Avenue, will be the scene of three services, as well as open house for the community between 1 and 3 p.m., and between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. During those hours visitors can see not only the magnificent sanctuary, with its unusual soaring foyer, but also the previously completed educational facilities, which can handle 1,500 persons, the large gymnasium, fellowship hall, kitchen, library, offices, etc.

WHAT THEY won't see is the humming use to which all this is put, and the heartening participation of young people throughout the week, proving that well-meaning critics of "expensive church facilities used once a week" don't always know what they are talking about.

The original First Brethren burned to the ground during a series of Long Beach church fires in May and June, 1964. The 1,000-strong congregation, dating back to 1913, trekked to Brethren High School in Paramount for worship until January of 1967, when they held services in the newly completed fellowship hall and gym, which accommodated 900 by rolling back the wall between them.

Sunday's services will stress the church's continuity. Two of them will be led by sons of the only two pastors First Brethren has had in 55 years. The late Dr. Louis S. Bauman was pastor from 1913 to 1946, and Dr. Charles W. Mayes ever since then . . . 33 and 22 years respectively!

Dr. Mayes will conduct the 11 a.m. worship. The 3 p.m. formal dedicatory service will be conducted by Dr. Paul R. Bauman, son of the founding pastor, and himself now a noted expert in Biblical archeology, and vice president of LeTourneau College of Texas. At 7 p.m., services will be conducted by Rev. John Mayes, son of the present pastor, and pastor of Sunnyvale Brethren in the State of Washington.

MUSIC WILL be the large church choir, directed by Carleida Hutton, with accompaniment by the new 3-manual Moller organ.

First Brethren is a member of the National Fellowship of Brethren Churches, a strongly conservative, Bible-centered grouping headquartered in Winona Lake, Ind. Southern California has become its fastest growing area, helped no little by First Brethren, which acted as a mother church in starting the huge North Long Beach Brethren Church, Los Altos Brethren, Grace Brethren of Seal Beach and others.

That this dynamic spirit has not flagged is attested by the dedication Sunday, not quite four years after the stunning tragedy of the fire.

Catholic Girls Join YWCA?

U.S. Catholic bishops have been encouraged to establish "better relations" with the Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA). The word comes from Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, and is based on a special study made by a committee of bishops under the chairmanship of Archbishop Philip M. Hannan of New Orleans and a lay committee headed by Mrs. Harold Schachern of Detroit, first vice president of the National Council of Catholic Women.

COUNCIL INVITES ALL
Wide-Open Forums Set

Communications gap, cultural gap, generation gap, racial gap, religious gap, social gap . . .

All of these modern phenomena will come under scrutiny in a lively series of four Monday night "Forums for Religious Growth" sponsored by the Long Beach Area Council of Churches and the Christian Education Commission, starting this Monday, March 11, in First Methodist Church.

The forums will enlist as resource leaders leading figures both from within and from outside the community. Dean of the forums is Charles C. Tingley, director of Christian Education at First Baptist Church, who stresses that participation of people of varying opinions, racial and religious backgrounds and age groups is invited. Frank exchange helping to bridge the gaps "which separate so many in our community" is one of the aims.

Monday's topics: "Revolution in Communications," with leaders Dr. Frank George, head of the Long Beach School District audio visual department; Dr. Clifton Moore, Southern California Council Film Commission, and Chaplain Robert Gunter of Memorial Hospital.

"Dialogue with the Community," headed by Dr. Joseph White, professor of philosophy at Cal State-Long Beach and an officer from the Police Dept.

"Interfaith Dialogues," with Rev. Robert C. Walker, first president of the local Council; Msgr. James P. Lynch and Rev. Jeremiah Flanagan of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Parish; Rabbi Wollf Kaleiter of Temple Israel, and Rabbi Sidney Guthman of Temple Sinai.

"Generation Gap" with Rev. Norman Self, Cal State-Long Beach Methodist ministry, Rev. Ross Greek of Hollywood, noted for his Sunset Strip ministry, and others.

In addition there will be sessions on approaches to the teaching of children, and understanding the child, headed respectively by Mrs. Edna Trumbo, education leader at Belmont Heights Methodist, and Mildred Arnold, Southern California Baptist State Convention Ministry to Children leader.

Registration — $4 for all sessions March 11, 18, 25 and April 1, may be made at the church, Fifth Street and Atlantic Avenue, at 7 p.m. Monday. Sessions start at 7:30 and end at 9:30, with a brief coffee break in between.

CONFIDENT LIVING
Avoid Becoming
Self-Made Failure

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Many people cause their own failure, and it is due to negative attitudes — to wrong thinking. A businessman spoke to me about an employee from whom he had expected outstanding performance. The man was fully qualified. Yet after three years in the job he still was not coming up with the desired and expected effectiveness.

"I've been studying this fellow closely," his boss said. "I can't see anything basically wrong with the guy. He's an intelligent, talented, hardworking man. I have come to the conclusion he just has no confidence in himself or in other people — thus he has no real enthusiasm for the job. In fact, he seems to be a self-made failure."

I was brought into the problem of a couple. Their marriage started with bright prospects only to run into difficulty in two years. In talking with them I felt that certain of the wife's attitudes could be stumbling blocks to happy married life. Marital difficulties almost always prove to be a two-way street, but in some cases they stem more from one side than the other.

I MADE NO headway with these two young people until, with a flash of insight, the wife got honest. "I'll level with you, I really am to blame. It's all on account of my horrible habit of getting fearful and selfish and depressed. When I'm that way I'm not fit to live with. Please help me change my own failure pattern so we can be happy together." A good result was obtained. I am glad to say. The wife avoided being a self-made marriage failure. Otherwise it might have been one more case of another marriage on the rocks.

In the great scheme of things each of us may have a life full of achievement, love and happiness. At least a prominent scientist believes this. "The idea that nature is at bottom benevolent has now become well-nigh universal," says atomic physicist Robert Millikan. "Modern science has brought forth evidence for its belief."

So it can hardly be that anyone is fated to a chronic failure in life. This does not mean that you can have everything you may think you want. Of course not. But you can avoid self-made failure. Simply get rid of your negative attitudes. To do that hold in your mind a picture of the outcome you want and mentally see it developing as you desire. Then get going and get what you visualize.

There is a television newscaster whose style I like. He never editorializes — just reads off the facts. He also conducts an interview program, which I was on one day. Before going on the air we chatted over coffee. "You seem to like your job a lot," I remarked. "Maybe that's one reason you communicate so well."

"Like it!" he said. "I love it! It's the one and only thing I want to do. I wouldn't give it up for any other job in the world."

"Sure sounds good to hear talk like that. There are so many job haters. How did you get into it?"

"I visualized doing this newscast for years before I got into it. I come from the Midwest. My people were humble and poor — earned their living at manual work. For a while it looked doubtful that I would get an education. I had to work to help support the family."

"Well, I used to listen to news broadcasts on the radio and one day I suddenly knew — that was what I wanted to do! And in my mind I saw myself doing it. When I told my father he said, 'Son, it's a pipe dream. You'll never make it. Forget it. Just get busy and start making money right here working hard like the rest of us.'"

"No, Dad," I said, "what I want to be is a man who broadcasts news. That is for me." And from then on I pictured myself doing it. And I always saw myself broadcasting in New York. It was a long hard road but I made it."

A person continually seeing in his mind a dynamic, clearly imaged goal becomes charged with confidence and expectancy. There is no room in his mind for inadequacy feelings, or for pessimism, fear, resentments or any other negative that could make

RENEWAL WEEK

Rev. Dr. I. L. Clark of Glendale, noted for his Spiritual Renewal ministry, will lead a week's campaign in Garfield Baptist Church, 23rd Street and Caspian Avenue. He will speak Sunday, 10:50 a.m. and 7 p.m., will direct neighborhood visitation Monday and Tuesday evenings, hold meetings again Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 7 p.m. On Friday at 6 p.m. he will meet with the youth at a hamburger fry.

him a self-made failure. What you image tends to be realized provided you put some go-go motivation behind it.

The famous naturalist John Burroughs stated a deep and profound law: "My own shall come to me," meaning you can make good or bad come to you. So visualize your own good coming to you. Then, holding that image in mind, really go for it. You'll be no self-made failure.

"No, Dad," I said, "what I want to be is a man who broadcasts news. That is for me." And from then on I pictured myself doing it. And I always saw myself broadcasting in New York. It was a long hard road but I made it."

'Secession' Suit
Who Gets to Keep Property?

Major Protestant denominations are appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court to overturn a lower court decision that could open the door to legal battles over billions of dollars worth of church property.

The decision was handed down by the Georgia Supreme Court in a case involving two Savannah congregations which seceded from their parent denomination, the Presbyterian Church in the United States. (Southern.)

Ordinarily, when a local congregation secedes from a Presbyterian body, title to the church property remains vested in the parent denomination. The people are free to go, but they can't take the church building with them.

But the state court upheld the claim of the two Savannah churches that they are entitled to the property on the grounds that the mother church had departed from its "old doctrine."

The two Savannah congregations charged that the parent denomination had fallen into heresy by endorsing civil disobedience tactics in racial rights controversies.

Attorneys for the Presbyterian Church in the United States told the Georgia court that the ruling would open a "pandora's box" of legal actions which would encourage congregations all over the country to try to withdraw from the mother church and take the church property with them.

They said that any dissident group in any church — even though a small minority — could come to court, contend that the church had abandoned its "old doctrine," and demand that the question of doctrinal deviation be decided by a jury.

Thus, they contended, the civil courts would become in effect the arbiters of religious doctrine in American churches — a situation never contemplated by the Freedom of Religion Amendment to the Constitution.

Several other Protestant bodies have signified their intention of joining the appeal to the nation's highest court. The ruling does not affect denominations in which title to church property is always vested in the local congregation anyway — as is the case, for example, among Baptists and Christians.

Rev. Kliever Called to Farm Ministry

The congregation of Calvary Baptist Church at 5722 Lime Ave. will hold a farewell reception Sunday 7 p.m. for the pastor, Rev. Otto A. Kliever and his family.

After nearly eight years at the church, Rev. Kliever has accepted a call as minister-at-large for the Coahuila Valley Foundation in India. He will be community relations director for the Del Rey Child Care Center and will minister to seasonal farm workers.

During his ministry here 350 new members were added to the church roll, 150 by baptism. A new educational unit was completed and additional property obtained for parking.

Council Drive on Illiteracy

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Council of Churches disclosed this week that the first three years of its five-year program to increase literacy and the publication of Christian literature around the world have met "with notable success."

The council said the campaign, under the aegis of its Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature (Lit-Lit), is being financed by a $1.5 million advance fund released by 11 Protestant denominations in the United States and Canada.

Lit-Lit has a regular $800,000 annual budget which sets up and sustains numerous publishing projects in many countries. A spokesman said the impact of the campaign is being felt in Asia, Africa and Central and South America. Among the large projects are a $134,000 publishing house in Jakarta, Indonesia, a book distribution center in Japan, and a motorcycle brigade in Egypt to deliver books, periodicals and literary materials to scattered Nile villages.

'NOT GUILTY'

Can any man be condemned? Is anyone predestined to evil? These questions will be discussed by Christian Science lecturer Hazel R. Harrison, former dramatics teacher, Monday, 8 p.m., in Second Church of Christ, Scientist, 302 W. Seventh St. Her lecture is entitled: "God's Verdict: Not Guilty."

'LIFE AFTER DEATH' TALKS SCHEDULED

Five Thursday night religious forums on the subject "Life After Death" will begin March 14, at 7:30 p.m. in The Congregational Church, 3212 E. Eighth St.

First session will be on the Bible basis for belief in life after death. It will be led by Rev. Park H. Netting, of Pacific Christian College.

"The aim of this series," says the pastor, Rev. Vernon L. Booker, "is to help people understand better the continuity of life. The more we know about the past and the future, the more we are able to understand the present. Who are we? What are we doing here? How can we learn to live a more creative and meaningful life?"

That Cigarette Ad, Lent's Length, 1st Christian's Stereo, and COCU

By LES RODNEY

Deep in the lore of everything that is higher about man lies the tradition of refreshment of spirit in escaping the crowd for a little solitude and meditation. Call it man and his God, man and nature, self-confrontation, or just the pleasure of slowing up and being away from the throng.

So if one scared easy, he might find a wee bit scary a certain cigarette ad heard these days on the radio. (Of course, there are many who think all cigarette ads kind of awful, but that's another story.) The ad says: Once when you smoked (this particular brand) you were alone, away from the crowd. The somber voice makes clear that this is a simply terrible thing. Supposedly icky "alone" sounds come on to underscore the point... quiet tapping of waves and a seagull's cry, the lonely hoot of a foghorn, or an unhurried step on a forest path with only the warbling of a bird and the croaking of a frog in the background. It sounds incredibly lovely and inviting — especially on a traffic highway en route to work. But in the estimate of this ad agency, it sounds like the ultimate hell, to most folks in 1968. (No, not 1984.)

And, now the voice, with great relief, announces: But you're not alone any more! The music swells happily and noisily into hurrying sounds of humanity sounds. Now, you're shoulder to shoulder with the rest of the big altogether rat race crowd. Wheel!

It's enough to send one shuddering backward in horror from the very sight of a pack of —s.

It would be nice to think that this was really a clever ad put out by those who advertise against smoking. But can't be. There's the brand name in it. They're serious.

LAST OF THE interesting seminar series on the total care of the cancer patient and his family will be held Thursday morning in Memorial Hospital, with the topic "Grasping at Straws — Cancer Quakery" led by Helene Brown of the California Cancer Commission. Session is open to all area ministers, as well as doctors, the purpose being to establish a meaningful exchange between the two callings for the benefit of the patient. Breakfast may be purchased at 8 a.m., with the hour-and-a-half session starting promptly at 8:40.

IS LENT too long? The Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Georgia, Rt. Rev. Albert R. Stuart, thinks so. He'd like to see the six weeks shortened to two. "That would be long enough for the special disciplines of Lent," he says. In modern times, he feels, 40 days is too long to realistically achieve the desired purpose.

FIRST CHRISTIAN of this city rates a salute for its imaginative broadcasts of its worship services every Sunday in stereophonic sound.

Broadcasting in stereo, points out the minister, James McKown, poses some unique problems. "For example," he says, "the placement and balance of our choir is considerably more critical to achieve a maximum stereo effect." The added effort and special equipment are worth while, he believes, and many listeners will confirm, because of the added warmth and realism stereo provides in the home.

This is part of the thinking, since many shut-ins get a more immediate sense of being in the church and participating.

"When we interview a special guest," the minister notes, "it actually sounds like the two parties are seated one on each side of the living room."

While a primary aim of the program is to reach the shut-ins, McKown believes "it is evident that an urban church must use mass media just to keep up with the exploding population."

(No, we didn't accidentally neglect the "Rev." in front of his name. As part of an emphasis on a return to unstructured New Testament simplicity, ministers of the Christian Church, which was born on the American frontier, prefer not to use the Rev.

The broadcasts, believed first in stereo to a major metropolitan area, are heard throughout Southern California each Sunday at 3 p.m. on KBBI, 107.5 on the FM band.

FOUR OBSERVER-Consultants have been named by the Lutheran Council to this year's meeting of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU) in Dayton, Mar. 25-28. No Lutheran groups are among the 10 Protestant communions attempting to find the way to a united church which will be "truly catholic, truly evangelical and truly reformed."

The 10, in case you just came in, are The Methodist, Episcopal, United Presbyterian churches, Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Southern), United Church of Christ, Disciples of Christ, Evangelical United Brethren, African Methodist Episcopal, AME Zion, and Christian Methodist Episcopal churches, the last three being predominantly Negro groupings.

COCU, as it is (not always affectionately) called, will soon shrink to nine churches, but not by drop-out. The Methodist and EUB churches will become the United Methodist Church, first major ecumenical wedding since formation of the United Church of Christ 11 years ago.

Participating COCU communications have a combined membership of about 25 million.

The Lutheran Council observers-consultants, in addition to taking notes for reporting back, have a chance to participate in the discussion of small study groups, and may also attend plenary sessions as non-voting participants. The Council, in its second year, includes all three mafor Lutheran bodies, plus one other, comprising all but 5 per cent of this country's nine million Lutherans.

BEING REALISTIC, ecumenism can often start modestly with more fellowship among churches of the same communion. And that's just what the four Long Beach Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) worked on this week with a banquet bringing together 170 leading members and their spouses of Bixby Knolls, East Side, Palo Verde Ave., and North Long Beach churches, in the latter's new fellowship hall.

All board chairmen were introduced, there was group singing, a check on each other's membership, progress, etc. And if you think it was some kind of stuffy affair, be advised that a series of candid baby photos was on display with typical "board member" remarks appended to match each expression. Good fun.

Statistics show the four churches all made modest membership gains in the preceding 12 months, ranging from 33 to 67 (Bixby Knolls); per capita giving ranged from $104.38 to $130.16 (Palo Verde); East Side, the largest, with 543 members, had the biggest total budget, $64,748 and led in outreach giving with $14,748.

Missionaries Quit Angola in Dispute

Two major North American denominations, the United Church of Christ and the United Church of Canada, are withdrawing most of their missionaries from the Portuguese-ruled African country of Angola.

They said the Portuguese government has placed so many restrictions on Protestant activity in Angola that it is practically impossible for missionaries to do their work. Moreover, they said, although Western missionaries have not been "physically abused," African church leaders who cooperate with them "have frequently been tortured."

The Portuguese government has accused Protestant missionaries of inciting and abetting a freedom revolution that has been underway in Angola since 1961. The missionaries reply that they have been teaching nothing more subversive than the Bible.

CHURCH HUMOR

"This guru's religion is similar in many ways to our western religions."

Say Liberal Clergy May Switch to GOP

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Many liberal clergymen who backed Democratic presidential candidates in 1960 and 1964 may switch their support to the GOP this year.

The shift is almost certain to occur if Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is the Republican candidate. It will be less likely — but still a possibility — if Richard Nixon wins the GOP nomination.

Religious leaders are already discussing the arguments for a party switch. The one which carries most weight with many of them is that a Republican president would be better able to extricate the United States from the Vietnam morass than President Johnson, who is viewed as hemmed in by the need to justify past decisions and policies.

Rev. Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, professor of religion at Stanford University, is typical of a large body of liberal clergymen for whom peace is the one overriding issue.

"I HAVE come to feel that the top priority for 1968 is the removal of Lyndon Johnson from the presidency, and along with him (Vice President) Hubert Humphrey and (Secretary of State) Dean Rusk," Dr. Brown said recently.

Although he is a close personal friend and great admirer of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Dr. Brown conceded that McCarthy's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination has not gotten very far off the ground. Therefore, he said, opponents of the war must look to the Republican Party for an "alternative" to Johnson's Vietnam policy.

"Rockefeller would command the support of millions of uncommitted voters, even though little is known about his stand on Vietnam," he said he would be dismayed if the Republicans nominated either Nixon or Gov. Ronald Reagan of California because he believes they would "escalate the war out of sight."

But he added that "any candidate save Mr. Johnson" would have the advantage of "maneuverability," because he would not have to "take responsibility for Mr. Johnson's horrendous mistakes" and could "start afresh in efforts to negotiate."

Suppose the Democrats renominate Johnson and the Republicans nominate Nixon — the outcome which many political observers now regard as most probable. What would liberal clergymen do then? "I don't know," said Dr. Brown. "I'd be torn indeed. So great is that potential agony, that I will do all in my power to see that such a dilemma need not be faced by the American people."

CHRISTIANITY and Crisis, an interdenominational Protestant journal of great influence, says in its current issue that America will be "in very deep trouble" if the coming election fails to offer clergymen, professors, students and other dissenting intellectuals a chance to vote their conviction that "some way out of the Vietnam disaster must

Youth Rally Tonight for 'Encounter'

More than 600 young people from 25 Southern Baptist Churches in this area are expected to attend the Encounter Youth Rally tonight at 7 in Keystone Baptist Church, 1429 W. 229th St., Torrance.

The rally is one of 38 being held throughout the state, as one phase of preparation for "Encounter" crusade activities in April.

According to Rev. Ed Harness, Long Beach-Harbor Associational Missionary, one of the charges made by youth today against organized churches is that of omitting them from planning. This rally is for the purpose of informing youth between 13 and 25 concerning the role they can fill in Encounter activities.

The program will consist of a musical group called the "Contemporaries," congregational singing, testimonies from young people, the singing of recording artist Jack Holcomb, and an inspirational message by Dr. Levi Price, pastor of Narbonne Ave. Baptist Church in Long Beach.

Encounter-California is a six-month emphasis on spiritual growth and evangelism which will culminate in meetings in 42 locations throughout California April 21-26, including Municipal Auditorium of Long Beach. All area youth are invited to tonight's rally.

MORE THAN 1,500 members of Southern Baptist churches in the Long Beach-Harbor area are expected to attend the Encounter Crusade Personal Evangelism Institutes Monday through Wednesday at Truett Memorial Baptist Church, 3435 San Anselmo Ave., and Narbonne Ave. Baptist Church, 24730 Narbonne Ave., Long Beach.

be found that does not involve further escalation." "It is part of the nation's political frustration that we are forced to argue in terms of whether it is more important to defeat Mr. Johnson and remove Dean Rusk, or to suffer both of them to prevent the election of Richard Nixon or Ronald Reagan," it said.

Southland Edison Allots $348 Million for Expansion

Beginning with a record $348 million budgeted for 1968 facility expansion, Southern California Edison Co. will expand its generating capacity by 4.6 million kilowatts between now and 1973.

This expansion represents "more than half the company's present capacity and nearly equals the total system capability as recently as eight years ago," according to the company's annual report to stockholders released Friday.

Edison's 1968 investment in construction of new plants and facilities will top by $23 million its $325 million expenditure in 1967.

"SOME OF THE projects are immense in their scope and imagination. Some are less dramatic," the report said.

One of the most dramatic developments is already in service: the West's first large-scale nuclear power plant, San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station, dedicated Jan. 5.

Edison receives 80 per cent of the nuclear plant's output and the joint owner,

San Diego Gas & Electric Company, receives 20 per cent.

The Edison report also indicated a brightening of the Southern California residential construction outlook.

IT NOTED THE vacancy factor, indicated by idle residential meters, dropped below 3 per cent for the first time since 1954.

The number of idle meters now stands at 61,500—or 2.97 per cent—down from a high of 110,000 in August, 1965, "suggesting that an upturn in residential construction may be at hand."

"While there still are the national problems, such as high interest rates and the Vietnam war, it is anticipated that sometime in 1968 there will be enough buying pressure to cause a resurgence of new home construction," the report said.

The report cites a month-by-month increase of residential building permits in the company's 65,000-square-mile service area.

Edison reached an important landmark last November when it connected service for its two millionth residential customer.

Operating revenues rose 7.1 per cent in 1967 to $552 million. Earnings per average share increased 6.7 per cent to $2.39.

San Pedro's 25th St. to Be Widened

Widening and paving of 25th Street in San Pedro from Patton Avenue to Western Avenue at a contract figure of $155,252 will start within three weeks, Harbor area Councilman John S. Gibson Jr. announced Friday.

The contract was awarded by the Los Angeles Board of Public Works to Andro Engineering Co.

The improvement will extend earlier widening of 25th Street, a major route along the south side of the Palos Verdes peninsula leading into Palos Verdes Drive South, for three quarters of a mile. Motorists will have a through route from the central part of San Pedro around the scenic oceanfront highway.

Under the contract, curbs, gutters, sidewalks and street lights will be provided, and retaining walls will be built along backyards between Patton and Averil avenues. Gibson said right-of-way problems involving the Army and Navy had delayed the extension of the highway improvement.

APPLICATIONS OPEN

City Jobs Need Script and Color

Ability to determine the "hue, saturation and brilliance of colors" is a requirement of one city job now open, and "clear and legible handwriting, including numerals" is needed for another.

The eye for color is needed for applicants for positions as laboratory technicians with the Water Department, a job which pays a monthly range of $579 to $715.

Among other things, the technicians test city water for chemical and bacterial content and must be familiar with "electrophotometers, spectrophotometers and pH meters."

Applications must be filed by March 18. Tests will be given March 25 at 8 a.m. in Veterans Memorial Building, Broadway and Cedar Avenue.

The handwriting requirement is one for applicants for city jobs as utilities systems operator, which pays $594 to $734 a month. Such employees operate and maintain mechanical, hydraulic, pneumatic and electrical equipment and related auxiliary pumps, motors, boilers, tanks and control systems.

Applications for the utilities operator jobs may be filed through this Friday, and the test is scheduled for March 21 at 8 a.m. in Veterans Memorial Building.

Central Area Rezone Meet Slated Tuesday

The second in a series of public meetings to explain why rezoning is desirable for a 110-block commercial zone in the Central Area will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in MacArthur Park clubhouse, 1325 E. Anaheim St.

An explanation of the problem and possible solutions will be given by Frank Sherlock of the Long Beach Planning Department.

After his presentation, a four-member panel will answer questions from the audience. Panel members will be Sherlock, realtors Charles Haynes, Marvin Hopewell of the city Building Department, and Ray Brosterhouse, director of the city's Department of Community Development.

Frank Bowman of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Community Improvement will be chairman. The advisory committee is sponsoring the meeting.

QUEEN MARY FOODSTUFFS Last Call for Chow!

From macaroni to Melba toast, the last food items remaining from the final voyage of the Queen Mary are now being offered for sale by the city on an "over the counter" basis.

The foodstuffs originally were offered on a bid basis, and most were sold. Those that remain may now be purchased directly from the city's Queen Mary Department. Interested buyers should get in touch with George Salzer of the Queen Mary project.

Largest quantities include 96 fifteen-ounce cans of beef ravioli, 48 four-ounce boxes of Melba toast, 36 bottles of H.P. sauce and 24 boxes of Rice Krispies.

QUICKEN TREE TABBED, BUT...

Big 'Cap Field Set for Gooney Go

By HANK HOLLINGWORTH
Executive Sports Editor

Australian champion Tobin Bronze was high-weighted at 124 pounds—but Quicken Tree was installed the morning line favorite for today's 31st running of the wide-open $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

The mile and one-quarter gallop for three-year-olds and up was expected to draw a crowd of 52,000 to the Arcadia track, which probably will be on the sluggish side after the rainstorm which swept the Southland early Friday.

First prize for the winner will be $100,000. The classic has drawn one three-horse entry (Tobin Bronze, Tumble Wind and Duncan Junction), plus a pair of two-horse entries (Rising Market and Proud Land trained by Ted Saladin, and Biggs and Postage handled by Farrell Jones). Fifteen nominees were entered, but the track's condition will determine how many actually go to the post.

Even though he was installed the early favorite, Quicken Tree may be the one to suffer on an off track. The fast-finisher may not like the going and also might find himself plastered with both clods and mud by the time he hits the stretch turn.

Biggs, who has earned more money ($271,497) than any other of today's contestants, was classified in the 15-1 category, which could be the day's overlay.

The field's lightweight will be Ala Ram at 107 pounds. Only last week Ala Ram raced in the ninth race at Santa Anita—the last event and one usually reserved for the backstretch dogs—but today he's in the Big 'Cap. His sizzling 10 length triumph prompted his patrons to shoot him into today's rodeo.

Jockey Jerry Lambert may have more trouble than Ala Ram today. Lambert usually rides at 113 pounds and will have to scale off at least a pound to accept the mount at five pounds overweight.

That's the kind of rodeo the Handicap looms this afternoon.

Rising support will be extended Rising Market if the track isn't fast since the chestnut colt likes to run on the pace and thus wouldn't be hindered by flying obstacles.

The mystery horse in the Far West's oldest racing classic is Tobin Bronze, Australia's finest racing product since Phar Lap in the early '30s. The six-year-old came to this country with the finest of credentials, but despite two victories over comparatively weak fields has yet to live up to his advance billing against the better horses in this country. A grass course specialist, Tobin Bronze hasn't proven to be any super horse on a dirt track, let alone a gooney one.

Even though the race really has no super-star, the early odds clearly indicate how the various entries have cut into the track handicapper's figures. Quicken Tree was listed at 5-2, with the strong entry of Charley Whittingham (Tobin Bronze, etc.) marked at 3-1. Saladin's entry was next at 9-2, with Most Host at 8-1. The rest were listed at 10-1 or higher. Bringing up the rear were Jungle Road (trained by Johnny Longden) and Kings Favor, both early 30-1 longshots.

UCLA has clinched the Pacific Eight basketball championship and a berth in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Western Regional Tournament at Albuquerque next week.

But if you think this detracts from tonight's 8 o'clock UCLA-USC basketball game, you have not followed the Bruin-Trojan rivalry in all sports.

With each encounter, whether it be in tumbling, football or basketball, "the town" is at stake and the athletes respond accordingly.

Much more is at stake for USC tonight. The Trojans are an embarrassing 0-15 against the Bruins over

HEADS OFF DEFENSE

Van Vliet did make free throws, however, and Falcons advanced to finals of State Junior College Tournament with 101-85 victory. Van Vliet took game honors with 24 points.

Lazy Lakers Topple Hapless San Diego

By DOUG IVES

When first place is out of reach, second place is virtually assured, and the opposition is as hapless as the San Diego Rockets, it is difficult to get inspired.

That vacuum existed Friday night for the Lakers, and it took them nearly three quarters before they broke away to score a 130-122 victory before 9,146 fans in the Forum.

The loss was San Diego's 27th in its last 28 games, starting when ex-Laker John Block was injured. With Don Kojis, all-star forward, and guard Jon McGlothlin also crippled, the Rockets have little left but pride.

Somehow that and the amazing Henry Finkel were enough to keep them in the game for awhile, but the Lakers had too much firepower in notching their 24th win in 30 games since Jan. 17.

Tonight the Lakers travel to San Francisco for a televised game against the Warriors, and a victory would cut their magic number (for second place) to two games. Currently five up in the loss column, it is unlikely they'll squander that edge.

Seven Lakers scored in double figures, led by Elgin Baylor and Archie Clark with 23 apiece, but most of the cheers went to Finkel, the 7-footer who rode the bench as a rookie with the Lakers last season.

The likeable giant, getting a chance to play what with all of San Diego's injuries, poured in 35 points, seven less than he netted Thursday against the Lakers, and it gave him 144 in his last five games.

"Two weeks ago I was sure they would put me in the expansion draft," said only 67-65 at intermission, so VBK started super subs Erwin Mueller and fireball Freddie Crawford to shake things up. They did.

San Diego, despite its hustle, missed 19 of 26 shots in the third stanza, and the Lakers banged in a torrid 13 of 22 to forge ahead by 14 points, 101-87.

Cerritos Vs. Pasadena for State Crown

By DAVE DANIEL

Pasadena City College tries for its second successive state junior college basketball championship tonight, with Cerritos College as its opponent in the Falcon gym.

Pasadena easily defeated highly-touted Hancock College, 91-79, to advance to the final round, while Cerritos was whipping Orange Coast College, 101-85.

Lancer coach Jerry Tar-kanian will be favored to take his Western State Conference entry to its second win and to his fifth title in a row tonight.

Sam Robinson, bidding for "player of the tournament" honors, pumped in 32 points to lead Pasadena to the win, and to avenge a preseason loss to the Bulldogs.

When it meets Metropolitan Conference champion Cerritos tonight, Pasadena will be going for its second win over the Falcons this season. Earlier the Lancers prevailed, 59-52. Cerritos, led by John Van Vliet's 15' second-half points, outdistanced classy Orange Coast College team, 101-85, before a standing room only crowd of more than 3,000 fans in the 7 p.m. feature.

Phillies' Allen Is AWOL

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)

An AWOL Richie Allen took a series of tests of his injured right hand Friday and gave the medical examination as the reason he left the Philadelphia Phillies training camp without an explanatory farewell to the team brass.

He said he was returning to camp Friday night or this morning.

Allen, who skipped drill at Clearwater, Fla., Thursday afternoon, was reported missing Friday morning.

It wasn't until trainer Joe Liscio received a Friday call from Mrs. Allen that Richie was home "sick" that the Phils knew where he was.

General manager John Quinn announced promptly that the unexplained disappearance would result in "team disciplinary action." But, at Temple University Hospital where Dr. B. F. Magsamen gave Allen a 90-minute examination, the slugging third baseman finally let it slip that it was concern over the hand he slashed when the headlight on a 15-year old model car broke as he pushed the auto last August.

First, sitting on the table waiting for the medic, Richie said he "didn't know" why he didn't tell the Phils he was coming home.

Richie, asked if that were a mistake on his part, replied "probably... more than likely" and possibly could lead to a $500 fine for each day absent.

The Falcons, ahead only 46-42 at the end of the half, sent the 6-foot-7 Van Vliet under the basket while guards Tony Rodriguez and Lee Mansell were busy in the backcourt as Cerritos pulled away to a 19-point lead. Van Vliet finished the night with 24 points and a rousing ovation from his hometown fans when he left the game with two minutes to play.

For a while it appeared the shorter Pirates, champions of the Eastern Conference, might stay with Jim Killingworth's well-balanced crew. A full-court press with five minutes to play cut the Falcon margin from 15 points to 10, but two three-point plays by Van Vliet in the final three minutes put the margin back at 16 points and the Pirates' hopes on the floor.

Ed Babuich, for the second successive night, came off the bench to lead the Pirates. He totaled 23 points as a reserve, hitting on 10 of 15 field goal attempts as usually hot-shooting John Vallely could score only half of his average.

Paul Ruffner and Rodriguez scored 21 points while Bob Horn got 19 and Mansell 10 as Killingworth kept his regulars in most of the game. Mansell added 18 assists in a deft display of ball-handling.

The taller Norwalk crew grabbed 57 rebounds to OCC's 21. Horn, another 6-7 forward, pulled down 18 and Van Vliet got 12. No Pirate had more than four.

In afternoon consolation games, San Diego City College eliminated DeAnza, 71-60, and City College of San Francisco, which has been in the state playoffs in nine of the past 13 years, edged Delta, 91-89.

Chamberlain Next Coach of 76ers?

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Record American said Friday that it has learned Alex Hannum will resign after the playoffs as head coach of the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Assn. and be replaced by 76ers ace Wilt Chamberlain.

Sports writer Murray Kramer said Hannum's resignation is already in the hands of club officials. Kramer said Hannum is set to take over as head coach and general manager of an unnamed NBA team.

The move, if verified, would make Chamberlain a player-coach, similar to the role occupied by his arch rival, Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics.

Hannum has directed both the 76ers and the St. Louis Hawks to NBA championships.

In Philadelphia, 76er general manager Jack Ramsey denied the reports.

"There's no truth to it at all," he said. "It sounds like a fairy tale to me."

"Alex Hannum has submitted no resignation to me."

Duke Loses, 12-10; Wake Up, Fellows!

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Duke coach Vic Bubas accepted "sole responsibility" for the 12-10 Blue Devil loss to North Carolina State's stall in the semifinals of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament Friday night.

"I chose to play it that way," Bubas said. "I told the boys that during the course of the year I hope I had made some good decisions. This one wasn't so good."

The loss sent North Carolina State into Saturday night's finals against fifth-ranked North Carolina, a team Duke defeated 87-86 in three overtimes last Saturday. Sixth-ranked Duke now also may lose a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

N. C. State coach Norm Sloan refused to apologize for the Wolfpack freeze.

"We had no specific plan going into the ball game. It just developed as it went along," he said.

"We had quickness going for us and they had size going for them. So we wanted to play all over the court, not just under the basket."

Rain Postpones Athletic Play in Long Beach

The rain in Southern California fell mostly in Long Beach, as far as washed out athletic activity was concerned.

All Moore League track and baseball activity yielded to the weather. Millikan and Wilson will meet in track Tuesday at Millikan, but all other rescheduling is pending.

Long Beach City College has rearranged a track meet hosting Cerritos for Tuesday, but no date has been set for the re-play of a baseball game with Santa Monica.

The Nitehawks lost their Friday game with Los Alamitos, but will attempt to play La Mesa tonight at Park Ave. Field.

Alston Optimistic as Dodgers Open Grapefruit Session

By GEORGE LEDERER Staff Writer
VERO BEACH, Fla. — St. Louis is the team to beat, Cincinnati's the club with the biggest difference and the 15-1 odds against the Dodgers winning the pennant are subject to change.

"At least I hope they change," said manager Walter Alston on the eve of the exhibition season. "I'm really not a Las Vegas gambler. The only thing I'll gamble on may be the squeeze play once or twice."

Alston, while guarded as always in his preliminary training summary, was as optimistic as any eighth-place manager has a right to be. He said his eight everyday starters compare reasonably well with good years, pitching is the best part of the club, the defense has improved tremendously and "I'm satisfied with the way spring training has gone."

"Naturally, there are always a lot of ifs. If the eight starters play to their potential, we can expect a reasonable comparison with our good years. If (Wes) Parker continues to hit as he has, he could make a lot of difference."

Alston rated Parker the "most improved player over last season. I'm still not convinced that he can hit strictly right-handed, but so far I'm impressed with what he's done, especially on breaking pitches."

From a conditioning standpoint, Alston picked Jim Lefebvre as the most improved. "He's in better shape now than he was in mid-season," Lefebvre is down more than 20 pounds from 1967 and weighed in at 179 Friday.

Alston said "I've got to stay with the Cardinals" as the team to beat "for a number of reasons. Their young pitchers have one more year of experience, they're a well balanced club with a fast outfield and power, and they've gone through the pressure of a World Series."

"Cincinnati is the club you may see the most difference in. They had a lot of talent last year that didn't jell because of injuries."

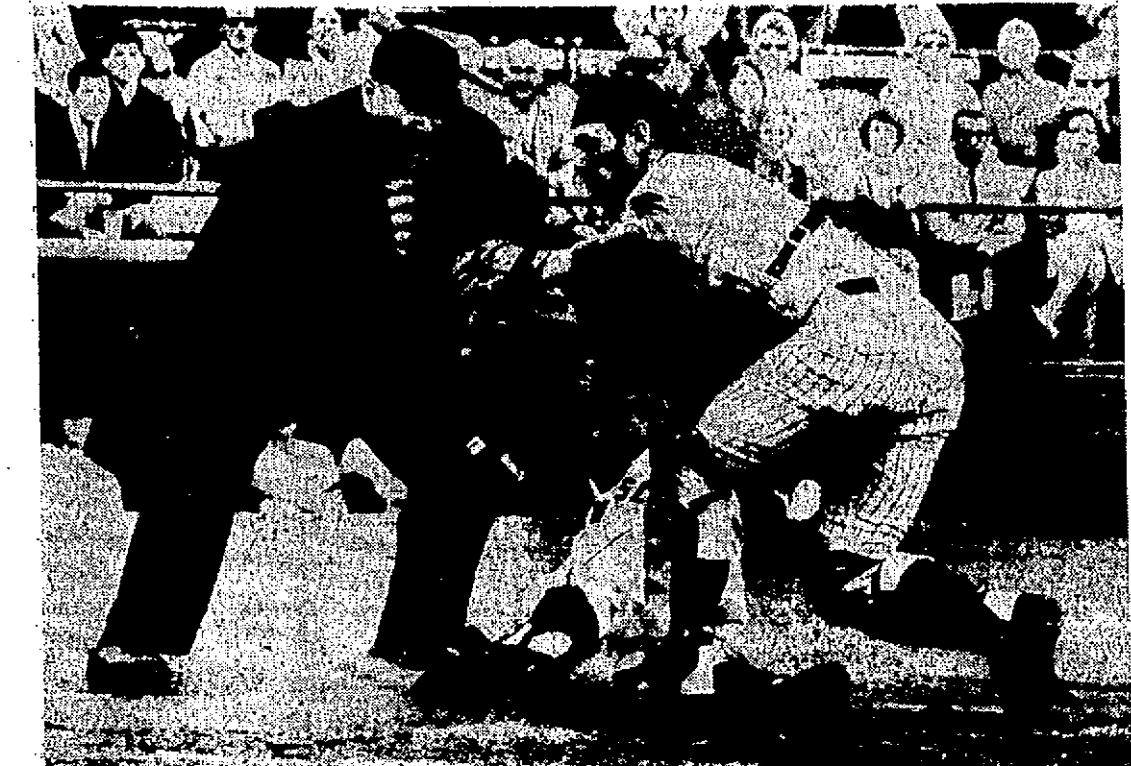

The Dodgers' primary need, said Alston, is more runs. "I don't know at this time whether we'll have to make another deal or whether we can count on comebacks by the fellows who had off-years. But we have to have more runs."

Phase two of the spring search begins today at nearby West Palm Beach. Claude Osteen, Larry Staab and Jack Billingham will be pitching against the Atlanta Braves in the first of 27 exhibition games. Dodger batting order:

Zoilo Versalles, ss; Wes Parker, 1b; Willie Davis, cf; Al Ferrara, lf; Jim Lefebvre, 2b; Ron Fairly, rf; Bob Bailey, 3b; Tom Haller, c.

DIS AND DATA — Don Drysdale was elected Dodger representative and Claude Osteen the alternate. Ron Fairly gave up the job at the request of general manager Buzzie Bavasi. "He was spending more time in the clubhouse with a typewriter than he was on the field with a bat," said Bavasi. "I thought the job was affecting his play and I suggested he give it up."

Braves pitchers today will be Ken Johnson, Pat Jarvis and Dick Kiley. The Braves come to Vero Beach Sunday with Bill Singer, John Purdin and Phil Ragan pitching against Ron Reed, Steve Guinn and Larry Mize.

BASEBALL IS IN, BATTER IS OUT
Baseball, that popular spring-summer-fall game, got under way Friday, and one of the first of a million or so outs of the year was Dick Dietz of San Francisco. Cubs catcher Randy Hundley made the play, umpire Stan Landes called it. Giants won, 6-3.

Beauchamp Using His Bat to Earn Job With Cincy

Associated Press
Jim Beauchamp, trying to win a job with the Cincinnati Reds this spring, is going about it very logically.

He keeps hitting the baseball out of sight.

Beauchamp, who flunked earlier trials with Houston and Atlanta, walloped the first home run of baseball's training season Friday. He liked the feeling so much, he did it again later in the game won by the Reds, 11-2 over Philadelphia at Clearwater, Fla.

In Friday's other games, San Francisco stopped the Chicago Cubs 6-3, at Scottsdale, Ariz.; the Chicago White Sox dropped Boston's American League champs, 7-3, at Sarasota, Fla.; Houston topped Pittsburgh 4-2 at Fort Myers, Fla., and Oakland went 10

That Certain Feeling Grips Angels; Face Cubs in Debut

By ROSS NEWHAN Staff Writer
PALM SPRINGS — Call it spring fever, infatuation or the real thing — by any other name it's that certain feeling.

"Like, man, I've only been here two weeks," said Chuck Hinton, "and I already know that this club believes it can win the pennant."

"Like it's togetherness. Like Cleveland was a group of individuals. This is a team. It's just something you feel."

It gripped Sammy Ellis the first time he walked into the Angels' clubhouse. "It's respect for the manager and general manager," said Ellis. "It's an atmosphere and attitude unlike anything I ever experienced at Cincinnati and on paper the Reds had the best team in baseball."

Ellis and Hinton are veterans. The young, too, are affected.

"I'm not even a regular and I know what they're talking about," said Tom Egan. "Sure, I've got a lot to learn, but I do know that this club believes in itself."

Whatever you call it, the Angels put it to work today in their Cactus League opener with the Chicago Cubs.

George Brunet throws the first pitch at 1 p.m. and KTLA (5) records it in living color.

Unfortunately, it may look more like the Olympic Swimming Trials, for heavy rains Friday left Angel Stadium a quagmire.

A city famous for its golf courses is one giant lateral water hazard.

Nevertheless, it will take more than Jupiter Plubius to throw a damper on Angel optimism.

The way Bill Rigney is talking, it may even take more than Carl Yastrzemski, Frank Robinson, Al Kaline.

Exhibitions Today
Atlanta vs. Dodgers at West Palm Beach, Fla.
Cincinnati vs. Chicago, AL, at Sarasota, Fla.
Houston vs. Washington at Cocoa, Fla.
New York, NY, vs. St. Louis at St. Petersburg, Fla.
Philadelphia vs. Pittsburgh at Fort Myers, Fla.
Chicago, NL, vs. California at Palm Springs, Calif.
San Francisco vs. Cleveland at Tucson, Ariz.
Boston vs. Oakland at Bradenton, Fla.
Minnesota vs. Detroit at Lakeland, Fla.
New York, AL, vs. Baltimore at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

"I hear 'em talking in the clubhouse, I know what they're thinking," said Rig. "They're talking baseball and they're talking pennant, and I believe in 'em."

He says it's the best conditioned Angel team in history and the most talented. He also says that the 27-exhibition games are extremely important to what follows.

"They're the foundation," said Rigney. "We'll play to win. We're going into the season with a winning habit and I mean that we're starting to work on it tomorrow."

Tomorrow is here for the Angels. The expansionists have come of age. No excuses, no alibis, no sad songs. Just that certain feeling.

An Hour's Worth of Talent She Ain't

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

The American Broadcasting Co. Department of Girl Stars and Assorted Number of Men aired its Debbie Reynolds special Thursday night.

Titled "... And Debbie Makes Six," this one had Debbie and five men. The previous week the network aired "Carol Channing and 101 Men." Either the network is running low on men or program titles.

Like the Channing show, Debbie's special was a delayed airing because of a labor dispute which hit the station. One of the reasons for one of the joke casualties was the delay — Bob Hope, explaining his presence at a "Siberian" out-post because he was caught wearing a Romney button.

I SAW no compelling reason for continuing to watch Debbie, pretty as she is, and switched to the Lakers-Rocket basketball game.

— which wasn't very exciting either. So I switched back and forth between Debbie and baseball and my viewing was spotty. The Debbie show was so constructed that this lack of continuity hardly mattered.

Miss Reynolds is a pretty good hooper and stayed with Donald O'Connor just fine; she is a very fine comedienne with the right material and some of her imitations enabled her to stay with the master of impersonation, Frank Gorshin, but she is not a trumpet player and the sight of her fumbling with the horn in the opening number, pretending to play, loused things up considerably for me.

THERE seems to be a feeling among stars that occasionally they have to pretend they can play instruments. Too many people play instruments these days and the sight of stars fumbling around with musical instruments they hardly know how to hold makes their acceptance impossible.

PETER GENNARO

cal instruments they hardly know how to hold makes their acceptance impossible.

Performers like to think they can do a number of things — which is reasonable since they're in the business of entertaining and the more things they can do the better. Debbie is a talented lady but darned if I can see her carrying a whole special — or even a whole hour of strung-together episodes, which this was.

IF THE television people are hard-pressed to find people who can do entertaining specials, they might take a look around and consider a dancer named Peter Gennaro. He doesn't have the big drum-beaters of some of the superstar dancers on TV, but he can dance rings around them.

He keeps popping up in shows for a couple of numbers — like in the Kraft Music Hall the other night — and makes you forget there's anybody else around worth watching. He ought to have his own regular specials.

CH. 5 begins telecasts of California Angels baseball games at 1 p.m. today with the pre-season game at Palm Springs. Second game with the Cubs is at 1 p.m. Sunday. The National Broadcasting Co. series, "The War This Week," a weekly program devoted to put Vietnam war developments in perspective, will be introduced with a one-hour edition of "The Rank McGee Sunday Report" at 5 p.m. Sunday.

A READER WRITES:

"For 5 years I've been reading your alleged column — but certainly not for its journalistic merit! Obviously you are a frustrated newspaper man whose nerve certainly commands respect. The only reason I do read it is because I'm curious to see how it could possibly get worse each week. Congratulations... it does!" Yours truly, Unsigned.

Folks, it is with a heavy heart that I inform this reader of my three years experience as a police reporter — you see, I was in trouble with the law — and had to report twice a week!

Seriously, though, folks, what do you think of this writer's opinion of my efforts? I priher, I implore you, I need your comments — critical, constructive, or otherwise. Send me a postcard or note and I'll answer every one, with a gift of use to your car enclosed.

PLEASE DON'T FAIL ME!
